Clues:

1. Located on the corner of Bear Hill Road and Old Field Road, Dan’s Farm & Country Market is filled with local, seasonal fresh fruits and veggies at this time of year. What is the largest fruit or vegetable painted on the sign above the market’s entrance?
2. A couple of blocks north of Dan’s Market on Oldfield Road is a blueberry farm. What is the name of this farm?
3. Once named the Urban Bee, this honey farm has recently embraced a new name to go along with new wild honeys. What is the new name of this honey farm?
4. Tod Inlet has a deep history, and significance, to the W̱SÁNEĆ (Saanich) First Nations. What is the SENĆOŦEN name for this inlet? Find the official sign in the park that explains the naming of this place.
5. Take a ride along this quiet multi-use trail, the ‘Willow Way Trail,’ between Keating Cross Road and Wallace Drive to get to the next clue. Can you spot any willow trees along this path?
6. Outdoor rock climbing wall along Stelly’s Cross Road that has raised some of Canada’s top rock climbers.
7. Gathering place for farmers to share and showcase their summer harvests each year.
8. This Saanich farm is known for its organic produce and bringing small-scale community farmers together. Co-owned since 2002 by Heather Stretch, Robin Tunnicliffe, and Rachel Fisher.
9. Mountain known by the W̱SÁNEĆ Nation as ŁÁU, WELNEW ‘Place of refuge/escape,’ marking the story of the great flood that took place here thousands of years ago.
10. Specializing in corn farming in Saanich for nearly a century, last year this farm introduced 10 new varieties of corn to their farm stands. What is the name of this old farm?
11. This Regional Park is located on the east coast of the Saanich Peninsula and was established as a Park in 1966. This place is home to shifting sand dunes, saltmarshes, and a number of rare plant and bird species.
12. I am a shorebird that eats oysters and lays my eggs on a special simple kind of nest called a “scrape” – basically a few camouflaged pebbles and rocks. Can you spot me anywhere along this seashore?
13. Bivalve species that Coastal First Nations peoples have “gardened” for thousands of years. These marine creatures can be found along the intertidal zones of Saanich Inlet.
